Eight-year-old boy's diabetes trial 'is changing his life'

PIONEER FOR TREATMENT

By Oliver Evans

A PIONEERING way to manage diabetes has changed the life of the first county youngster to get it on the NHS, his mother has said.

Type 1 diabetes sufferer Charlie Evans has worn a device taped to his back that monitors his blood sugar level for the last year.

If it detects the eight-year-old is getting too much insulin it sends a signal to another device that administers a drug to him to rectify the problem.

And it can tell if his blood sugar is dropping too low, cutting the risk of life-threatening hyperglycaemic episodes.

Now he has raised £900 for a diabetes charity and is trying to raise awareness of the condition.

Mum Angela Spiby said Charlie previously needed 10 to 12 finger-prick blood tests and six injections every day.

Mrs Spiby said: "It is fantastic, he can do anything now.

"It has changed his life. He has more freedom to do things.

"I was having to go to his school a lot more, now I don't have to.

Three years ago, the Orchard Field Community School pupil was temporarily paralysed down one side after a night-time episode.

Now his parents can check if he needs insulin throughout the night as the sensor sends out an alarm.

Mrs Spiby, of Fairway, Banbury, said: "He looked like he had a stroke. It affects the same side of the brain as a stroke does.

"It was the worst time of my life. He was trying to smile at me but couldn't."

The 44-year-old – who also has three grown-up children – added: "When he was first diagnosed I was shocked, I thought he was going to die.

"You have to get on with it. It was probably two months later when everything quietened down that it hit me."

The youngster raised £900 with a 5km sponsored walk around Drayton Manor Theme Park, Staffordshire, on Sunday.

The event was for charity JDRF, which funds research into type 1 diabetes.

She said: "It still has the stigma because of type 2, people think it is because of lifestyle."

Charlie said: "It is better because I don't have to have injections in my leg."

Charlie Evans wearing his sensor which detects impending hypoglycaemic attacks, with his parents Martyn Evans and Angela Spiby

Diabetes is caused by too much glucose, or sugar, in the blood.

Type 1 usually occurs during childhood when the pancreas does not produce any insulin to regulate blood glucose levels.

High glucose levels can seriously damage organs and the condition requires regular insulin injections.

In type 2 diabetes, the body does not produce enough insulin.

■ High-speed lawnmowers among attractions at wheels event

THE many ways to get from A to B were showcased at a pub event near Banbury and the weekend.

Visitors to the White Horse in Wroxton saw an array of vehicles for Saturday's inaugural event.

They included a 1928 Austin glider, a 1931 steam engine and even a speedy lawnmower.

Peter Farrell – who maintains lawnmowers for a living – says his modified four-wheeler can hit 80mph.

The Tiddington resident said: "It thought I would take something different."

"It is very much like driving a go-kart but a lot more bumpy. It takes some holding on to!"

Co-organiser Rick Collins said: "It had a bit of everything. This was a real trial and was very successful."

He brought along a 750 Formula kit car which – through £8,000 of parts – will reach 95mph with 1100cc horsepower.

Mr Collins said: "We will definitely be doing something bigger next year."

Jailed for getting a girl, 13, pregnant

A TEENAGER who got a child pregnant and gave her a sexually transmitted disease has been jailed for 32 months.

Nicholas Hancox admitted having unprotected sex with the 13-year-old girl.

The 19-year-old met her online and had thought she was 17, Oxford Crown Court heard on Monday, September 24.

But Hancox, of Bretch Hill, Banbury, still had sex with her after finding out her real age.

The girl's mother alerted police when she found her daughter was pregnant, and tests later showed Hancox had given her chlamydia.

By Ben Wilkinson

Prosecutor Allister Walker said the baby had been aborted.

Sentencing, Judge Tom Corrie said: "There is no sign she did not consent to having sex with you, as a result of which she had to undergo the enduring misery and distress involved in a termination, added to which she caught a sexually transmitted disease from you."

"The aggravating factors will continue to haunt this child almost certainly for the rest of her life."

He also said: "You are 19, you are said to be relatively immature for your age and you have no skills which would enable you to find work."

"It is said you have difficulty in forming and maintaining relationships, even within your own family."

Hancox pleaded guilty to five charges of sexual activity with a child.

He must sign the sex offenders' register for life and is banned from having contact with girls under 16 unless they are family members.

Defending, Tony McGeorge said Hancox was unaware he had the sex disease. He said: "There were no outward signs of it."

Kate Gibbins

FORMER Christopher Rawlins CofE Primary School pupil Kate Gibbins celebrated its 50th birthday with another pupil - her daughter.

The 42-year-old Adderbury resident praised the village school at a celebration day to marks its half century.

She and Alice, 10, met staff and browsed at mementoes like old class photographs at the Aynho Road school last Wednesday.

Mrs Gibbins, who also sent her older sons Nathan and Joshua to the school, said: "The ethos there is brilliant."

"They remain focused on targets

By Oliver Evans

but it is also about social activities. They treat each individual for what they are."

She said: "I remember being very happy and cared for."

"It has changed a lot. They have added a lot of extra classes and an activity area that wasn't there before."

"They have changed all the kitchen area and there is a fantastic library."

The school opened on September 5, 1962, with 95 children on roll. It now has 233 aged three to 11.

There were previously separate boys' and girls' primary schools on opposite sides of the village.

It was extended in 1969 and 1976, and significant alterations have taken place since 2000.

Headteacher Rose McCready said the school had "positive and active links" with St Mary's Parish Church.

She said: "The school community is very proud of our thriving and successful school."

"We continue to provide a quality education for all our pupils, firmly based on a strong set of values which reflect the Christian foundation of the school."

Ex-councillor dies

■ N OXON: Former Cherwell District Liberal Democrat councillor Richard Makepeace has died.

Mr Makepeace, 76, known as Dick, was a councillor in The Astons and Heyfords ward for nine years.

Mr Makepeace died earlier this month. A service of thanksgiving was due to take place at St Mary's Church, Lower Heyford, today.

Housing meeting

■ BANBURY: A public meeting on plans for 400 homes off Hanwell Fields will be held on Saturday.

Cherwell District Council is consulting on plans to allow the homes off Warwick Road and Dukes Meadow Drive by 2031. Council members and MP Sir Tony Baldry will attend the 3pm meeting, at Hanwell Fields Community Centre in Rotary Way.

More than 3,000 other homes are proposed for the town and surrounding villages. The meeting has been organised by the Hanwell Fields Development Action Group, which is fighting the plan.

Sir Tony Baldry

Sir Tony: No action over crash

POLICE have confirmed that Banbury MP Sir Tony Baldry will not face any further action after he lost control of his car and crashed into a shop, three other cars, and a portable toilet.

The incident happened last month in Banbury, when the MP's automatic Mercedes shot off when he bent down to pick up a dropped ticket.

Despite Sir Tony trying to regain control, the car veered through the car park, took out a portable toilet, went over a small drop into a neighbouring road and then hit a wall of the Poundland store.

It then hit a parked van and three stationary cars before coming to a rest against a concrete pillar, a witness said.

No one was injured and Sir Tony is understood to have given a negative breath test to police. Breath tests are standard procedure in crashes.

A police spokesman said: "Following a further of the incident no further police action is going to be taken."

Jobs fear for workers

WORKERS at sports retailer JJB Sports – founded by entrepreneur Dave Whelan in 1971 – have been left facing an uncertain future after bosses admitted they were looking to call in administrators.

The business, which has a store in the Castle Centre, Banbury, where it employs about 16 staff, has been unable to find a buyer since being put up for sale on August 30.

Stores are continuing to trade normally but the company's board has agreed to sell the business through an administration process, although no administrator has yet been appointed.

In the meantime, the company's shares have been suspended.

In a statement the firm said: "The company currently hopes to be in a position to announce a sale of the trade, assets and brands of the group within the next few days."

■ Grants offer to revamp empty homes

Council bid to ease housing waiting lists

A SCHEME aimed at reducing the housing waiting list by bringing empty properties back into use has been launched.

Cherwell District Council has set aside £120,000 for this financial year to give grants to landlords to spruce up their properties in Banbury, Bicester and Kidlington.

In return, they must lease their property to tenants put forward by the council for a specified period for a capped rent, which is likely to be lower than privately-rented homes.

Landlords will be able to apply for a grant to cover three-quarters of the work needed, up to £15,000, to reach the Government's decent homes standard.

The council said over the lifetime of the contract the grant was effectively compensation for the lower rental income.

Grants of £6,000 or less will require a two-year commitment to the council, while grants at the top end will mean the council will be able to nominate tenants for a five-year period.

By Samantha McGregor

The scheme is similar to work done in a TV documentary Channel 4's Great British Property Scandal, which brought long-term empty homes back into use.

Its presenter, George Clarke, continues to campaign on the issue.

But the scheme has come in for some criticism.

Town and district councillor Les Sibley said: "If you take the average grant of £6,000, that's 20 houses. That's not going to do a lot.

"Owners are getting their property done up and there's nothing to stop them selling the property after the lease is up.

"It sounds like a nice little earner for some people. I can think of better ways to spend that money and help people find homes."

Cherwell said the initiative was one of a number of projects it had put in place, including its self-build scheme, to help reduce the waiting list.

Debbie Pickford, Cherwell's housing chief, said: "On the one hand we have people who, for no fault of their own, are struggling to make ends meet.

"On the other hand, we have people who own properties that are sitting vacant because they cannot afford to bring them up to a standard suitable to let.

"By helping bring those homes back into use, we can create new income for the owner, house people who are otherwise at risk of being homeless, and improve the standard of private sector housing into the bargain."

Details: call 01295 221764.

New spree of car badge thefts

POLICE are hunting the culprits behind car badge thefts in the area.

The latest badge to be stolen was from a Porsche in Upper Heyford.

The previous weekend about 18 cars parked in garages in Southam Road, Banbury, were damaged when badges were taken from bonnets and boots.

The theft of Volkswagen car badges was rife in the 1980s after US rap group Beastie Boys wore the emblems round their necks.

DS Steve Birchall, of Banbury Police Station, said the badges were expensive to replace and anyone seen with one would have to explain themselves to police.

He said: "I want to try to stop this before it becomes popular."

Anyone with information should call police on 101.

InBRIEF*Textile work goes on show

■ An exhibition of textile work by the Cherwell Valley branch of the Embroiderers' Guild will run until Wednesday, October 17.

Called Looking Through, the work will be on display at the Michael Heseltine Gallery, Chenderit School, Archery Road, Middleton Cheney, Monday to Friday, between 9am and 5pm.

It will also open on Sundays, October 7 and 14, between 2pm and 4 pm, and on Thursday evenings, tonight and on October 11, from 5pm to 8 pm, when members will provide demonstrations.

Entry is free.

Appeal over homes veto

■ An appeal has been lodged after councillors rejected controversial plans for 70 homes in Hook Norton.

Taylor Wimpey lodged an appeal with the independent Planning Inspectorate after Cherwell District Council vetoed its plan for The Bourne.

The council's planning committee said the scheme was "not supported by existing or emerging policy or local people" and there was no guarantee the developer would give cash for extra services and infrastructure.

■ Down's Syndrome son died after complications from swine flu

Mum's charity run in memory of her son

A MOTHER from Steeple Aston, whose teenage son died of complications from swine flu, will be running the Oxford Half Marathon in his memory.

Rose Todd will be raising funds for two charities, including the hospice that cared for her son, Harry, in his final days.

Harry – who had Down's Syndrome – died from heart failure at Douglas House, Oxford, in January after contracting swine flu in 2010.

The 18-year-old had an underlying heart condition but a vaccine had yet to reach GPs for at-risk patients like him.

Dr Todd said: "Harry received some fantastic support during the last few years of his life.

"It is touching that people can be so very kind."

Earlier this month a fundraising event was held in Harry's memory for the special needs charity KEEN, which included horse rides, a bouncy castle and rounders.

The September 1 event at RAF Upper Heyford Sports Arena, raised about £400 for Helen & Douglas House hospice.

Now Dr Todd is to run the Oxford Half Marathon on

By Oliver Evans

Sunday, October 14, for both charities.

The swine flu alert began in April 2009 and vaccines became available in the UK later that year.

But Harry had not had the jab when he fell ill and was rushed to hospital in April 2010.

Dr Todd, 56, said: "He and I had flu jabs but, sadly, the way they distributed the vaccine, they didn't get it out quickly enough for the villages in north Oxfordshire.

"I felt frustrated. Despite all the information you get on the radio and TV, they didn't seem to be following it through with actual process."

Her youngest daughter, Flora, now 15, was accepted for a vaccine trial at the John Radcliffe Hospital but Harry was too old to fit its criteria.

Dr Todd, a council conservation officer, described her son as "a chap who grabbed life with both hands. He lived life to the full".

■ Organisers hope to pass 100 millionth milestone

New shoebox plea for charity's presents

AN Oxfordshire campaign to deliver shoeboxes packed with Christmas gifts to disadvantaged children all over the world has been relaunched.

The county's Samaritan's Purse volunteers are hoping to play their part in sending the charity's 100 millionth shoebox this year, as part of Operation Christmas Child.

The global children's project sends simple gift-filled boxes to victims of war, natural disaster, famine, disease and poverty during the festive season.

They are urging churches, schools, workplaces and individuals to help pack boxes in time for the Sunday, November 18, deadline.

The Oxfordshire regional manager for Operation Christmas Child, Roger Fenton said: "The challenge for us now is to increase Oxfordshire's contribution to this global programme – so we're asking everyone across the region to help us achieve that.

"This year is the 22nd year of Operation Christmas Child and the level of support from across the county is vital to the continued success of the project. We know we can count on people's big-heartedness, even in difficult economic times."

Over the past 22 years the charity has delivered 94 million shoeboxes, containing school supplies, toys,

By Jamie Brooks

and necessity items to children in over 100 countries.

Shoebox gifts are collected across the world – but Oxfordshire makes a significant contribution to the total.

Mr Fenton added: "Last year we received shoeboxes from supporters in a wide range of communities, including Banbury and Chipping Norton.

"Over 9,300 gift-filled shoeboxes were distributed to vulnerable children in Belarus, Bosnia and Romania. It's wonderful to think that we are a small part of such a large global project that is doing so much good for millions of children."

Nationally, more than 6,000 volunteers help collect and process the boxes through 140 processing centres and warehouses.

Local volunteer Marie Cotton added: "It would be great if we could have a few more people to help with the checking.

"Even if people don't want to give a full shoebox, donations of a few items of toys, toothpaste, cloths, hairbrushes and cuddly toys will be accepted."

Pay deal ends cocoa dispute

UNION officials say Banbury chocolate workers have got their just desserts after agreeing a 2.6 per cent pay increase.

The 108 members of trade union Unite at chocolate supplier Barry Callebaut called off planned strike action after voting to accept a deal running from September to April 2013.

They had previously held two one-day strikes after rejecting a 1.5 per cent offer.

The company's communications manager, Raphael Wermuth, said he was pleased at the vote, in line with a recommendation by shop stewards.

From April 2013, pay will rise in line with inflation plus between one per cent and 3.5 per cent.

Unite regional officer Mick Polleck said last week's vote would draw a line under the six-month dispute.

He said: "Our members have shown true grit and determination in their fight for a fair pay deal.

"Our members can now get back to doing what they do best; making chocolate products for some of the globe's biggest chocolate makers and helping Barry Callebaut retain its world-class status."

Cash in and help save energy

ANYONE claiming benefits is being given the chance to get £100 cash and save money on their energy bills.

People need to register with Cherwell District Council to have free cavity wall or loft insulation installed as part of the Government's Carbon Emissions Reduction Target scheme.

Cherwell's Debbie Pickford said: "Free insulation should be incentive enough, but who can afford to ignore the offer of £100 in their back pocket?"

"This is absolutely the last chance people will have to take advantage of the CERT programme."

LOCAL BUSINESS ACCELERATORS CAMPAIGN

Contest gives new firms a flying start

'Dragon' to mentor the top winner

ONE overall star business will be put forward to be in with a chance to gain Dragon's Den star Deborah Meaden as a mentor during 2013.

Ms Meaden, below, said: "With last year's LBA having demonstrated the unique power of local and regional press to provide a meaningful boost to promising young businesses, I am delighted to be supporting the initiative once again.

"The campaign provided tangible examples of the real contribution that local newspapers can provide to young businesses across many different sectors, accelerating their development.

"Enterprise and entrepreneurship in the local community are more important than ever before and I look forward to finding another young business to mentor and drive forward."

■ Andrew Smith
BUSINESS EDITOR

YOUNG businesses across Oxfordshire are being urged to sign up to a major campaign which could give a massive boost to their future prospects.

The Local Business Accelerators (LBA) initiative is launching in the Banbury Cake and its sister titles across the Newsquest Oxfordshire group for a second year following its highly successful debut in 2011.

It will see three of the most promising businesses in the county being offered free advertising for a year along with advice and mentoring from top business experts.

LBA represents a national drive worth £15m across more than 500 local and regional newspapers spearheaded by the Newspaper Society.

It is again being backed by Deborah Meaden, a judge on TV's Dragon's Den.

Ms Meaden will then become a mentor and consultant to one lucky business picked from the hundreds of regional winners.

Last year's competition saw three Oxfordshire winners picked from almost 40 young businesses who entered.

They were Banbury-based corporate health monitoring specialists Healthy Performance, Oxford building firm Savvy Maintenance and Renovations and Shakespeare's milkshake bar in Oxford city centre.

Savvy Maintenance and Renovations is moving into new offices in Headington following major growth over the last year.

It has been working on major playground projects with Oxford City Council and the new site for Ruskin

College in Old Headington.

Director Stephen Dunne said: "We are taking on more people, so needed more space and our turnover is now about £700,000 – double that of last year.

"We got a lot of good feedback from the Accelerators campaign and it really helped with our marketing and workload. I would absolutely recommend people enter it as it did us a lot of good."

The judges of the competition will be Mike Jennings, who runs the Jennings business parks across the county, Brendon Cross, managing director of Witney-based STL Communications and Bob Urwin, of Oxford letting agents Martin & Co.

They will work alongside Newsquest Oxfordshire's business editor Andrew Smith to review and shortlist entries before awarding the winners the prize of free advertising and business advice. They will also go on to mentor the winning three businesses.

The campaign has been backed by Prime Minister and Witney MP David Cameron, as well as the Governor of the Bank of England, Mervyn King.

Mr Cameron added: "The Local Business Accelerators campaign has provided tremendous support to fledgling businesses across the country and I am delighted it will be running for a second year.

"Local newspapers play a vital role in their communities and are uniquely placed to support small businesses, giving them the boost they need to grow, which is good for local areas and good for the economy as a whole.

"I hope more young businesses put themselves forward over the coming months and get involved with this innovative scheme, which rewards entrepreneurship and creative thinking in business."

GET INVOLVED

● BUSINESSES aged between one and five years can enter the competition

● If you run such a business, or know anyone who does, and want the chance to receive invaluable business support and advertising space in Newsquest Oxfordshire's titles, visit accelerateme.co.uk for more information and how to enter. Entries close on November 16

SUPPORT WAS GREAT SHAKES

AMEE THOMAS of Oxford-based Shakespeare's milkshake bar in Oxford city centre, said:

"Mike Jennings, below, has been a huge support for me over the last year and has always taken the time to be a friend as well as a guide when I've felt overwhelmed with the task of running the business alone.

"I think he has taught me above all that to be a successful entrepreneur you have to learn to take the rough with the smooth, and that keeping the passion for your business alive helps you achieve your goal."

FREE ADS HELPED FIND STAFF

HEALTHY Performance managing director Wayne Campbell, pictured right with mentor Brendon Cross, said: "We were looking to grow the business and winning the competition played a good part in that.

"We used our free advertising to find more staff and gained some good people out of it which was great as that was our biggest barrier to growth."

Healthy Performance operates 30 consultants across the country delivering programmes to major businesses and has seen its annual turnover increase from £150,000 in 2011 to £200,000 this year.

All aboard for Canal Day fun

THIS year's Banbury Canal Day is set to be a lock, stock and barrel success.

The ninth annual event, organised by Banbury Town Council, will be held this Sunday (October 7) with a Gangsters & Molls theme.

Festivities will take place all along the canalside from Spiceball Park to The Mill Arts Centre and from Banbury Bus Station to Sovereign Wharf from 10.30am until 5pm.

All the usual attractions will be organised from the popular boat taxi service and boat trips, to rides on the vintage double decker bus, the Continental Market and varied craft, trader and charity stalls.

Banbury Folk Festival will perform a free, six-hour folk concert, followed by colourful local Morris Dance teams.

By Liz Nicholls

Kieron Mallon, leader of Banbury Town Council, said:

"We want to see lots of pink feather boas and men in trilby hats carrying violin cases!

"The event wouldn't be the same without all the fun of the fair, falconry and horse and cart rides, plus food and drinks.

"We are again indebted to Castle Quay Shopping Centre and Hook Norton Brewery for helping sponsor this event. And also Smiths of Bloxham, JS Auctions, JLD Driver Training, Right Results Project Management, Buywise of Banbury, and Lovatt's Insurance."

■ The Mill Arts Centre and Banbury Museum will also be offering a warm welcome to visitors throughout the day.

Theatre stars in the dock

ACTRESS Prunella Scales in the dock! But... she'll be reading Muddy Waters stories by local author, Dan Clacher, rather than facing an uncertain future at Her Majesty's Pleasure.

For the fourth year Tooley's historic boatyard in the heart of Banbury will become Theatre in the Dock this weekend – and for the first time it will be linked to Canal Day.

Matt Armitage, the boatyard's proprietor, said: "Until now we've held Theatre in the Dock in July – but there is so much on in the summer, especially this year, so we've decided to move it to October when there is a great focus on the canal."

"We're excited Prunella is coming to join in. She and her husband, Timothy West are boaters and regular visitors to Tooleys."

Over the three days there is theatre, film, music as well as the Muddy Waters stories.

Day Star rural touring theatre start the weekend off with a lighthearted quirky comedy A Night at Blackstone Hall (Friday, 7.30pm). Day Star's husband-and-wife writing and acting team Pete and Jane Marshall toured Banbury by boat every summer for many years. The play is described as "their best so far. There's no way of predicting what will happen in this tale of challenge and cheating, ghostly episodes and expositions of a horrible past. The audience was completely mesmerized and charmed."

During the day on Saturday the dock will be busy with Muddy Waters stories and activities – there are three sessions to choose from at 11am, 1.30pm and 3.30pm. Tickets are just £5 per child and include a Muddy book to take home. Accompanying adults are free.

Two very different shows are on offer on Saturday evening – both with a focus on water and boats so you won't forget you are sitting in the middle of the canal!

Kate Saffin's new-one woman play Memories of Water (7pm) has Banbury at the heart of the story. Kate is well known to local and Edinburgh fringe audiences with her tales of life on the waterways.

The Longest Narrowboat Journey in the World (Saturday, 9.15pm) is definitely one for waterway enthusiasts – Nick Sanders' epic narrowboat voyage from the Black Country to the Black Sea accompanied by ARCC Cinemascope's live improvised blues. On Sunday, the dock will become part of Banbury's popular annual canal day. There will be lots of short pieces of theatre, readings, tours of the dock and... a hunt for the Great Big Spanner so drop in to see what happening alongside the boat trips, the market, the decorated boats and more out on the waterside.

FLASHBACK: Mikron touring theatre

■ Visit theatreinthedock.org.uk. Evening show tickets £10/£8 and can be booked online, in person at Tooley's (open 12-4 Mon-Sat) or on the door. Tickets for Muddy Waters events are £5 per child.

■ Other highlights of Banbury Canal Day on Sunday include: 11.30am-noon Taost Tai Chi Society and the Mill Youth outside Sovereign Wharf

■ 1-1.30pm Heavy Tunes (Hennef Youth Band)

■ 11.30-3.50pm a selection of acts at General Foods Garden including Folklaw, One Night Stand, Scarecrow, Kevin O'Regan Band and Linda Watkins Band.

Making time for a change in the plot

LOOPER (15, 118 mins) Sci-Fi/Action/Thriller. Joseph Gordon-Levitt, Bruce Willis, Emily Blunt, Paul Dano, Pierce Gagnon, Piper Perabo, Jeff Daniels, Summer Qing, Frank Brennan, Garret Dillahunt. Director: Rian Johnson.

In 2005, writer-director Rian Johnson made a big splash with his ambitious debut, Brick, which set a classic noir detective story in a modern-day California high school.

The Maryland-born film-maker is back on fine form with this ingeniously plotted thriller that exploits the gaping plot holes afforded by time travel.

Looper demands constant vigilance from the audience to keep track of alternate, intersecting timelines.

It's all meticulously planned and stylishly executed, realising Marty McFly's worst nightmare from the Back To The Future series by allowing a hero to co-exist with his future self in the same timeframe.

The ripple effect leads to a simple yet striking flourish: wounds inflicted on a young protagonist simultaneously manifest as scars on the older self.

This temporal torture allows the characters to cleverly communicate with each other by scoring letters and symbols into their own flesh.

Looper opens in 2044 Kansas.

"Time travel has not been invented yet, but 30 years from now, it will have been," explains Joe (Joseph Gordon-Levitt), an assassin or "looper", whose raison d'être is to gun down hooded targets that have been sent back in time by his mob bosses, represented in 2044 by the sadistic Abe (Jeff Daniels).

Silver bars are strapped to the backs of each target – payment for the pull of a trigger – and once Joe has incinerated the lifeless body, he stashes his spoils in a hidden floor-space of his swanky apartment.

Like his fellow loopers, Joe knows his life expectancy is finite and one fateful day he will "close the loop" by gunning down his future self.

Needless to say, it's crucial that loopers do not allow sentiment to cloud their judgment in case their older incarnations dodge the bullet and run amok in 2044, altering the course of the future.

So when Joe hesitates from his bloody duties and allows Future Joe (Bruce Willis) to escape, the race between hunter and hunted begins in earnest.

As a new present unfolds, Future Joe tracks down the younger incarnation of a shadowy figure called The Rainmaker, who will exert terrifying influence in 2074.

Both Joes gravitate towards a remote farmhouse where fiercely protective mother Sara (Emily Blunt) is raising her son Cid (Pierce Gagnon) far from prying eyes.

Looper reunites Johnson with Gordon-Levitt, his leading man in Brick, who dons disconcerting prosthetics to match the physicality of Willis.

Plot mechanics trump performances, so Gordon-Levitt's usual intensity is muted while Willis plays to his strengths as an action man.

Blunt impresses in her limited scenes as a mother, who will lay her life on the line to protect her special little boy.

A slow-motion final reckoning is spectacular, benefiting from slick digital effects, and Johnson ties up as many loose ends as possible to close the loop on potential sequels.

Win tickets

JUST so you feel like you really are at the movies, the Banbury Cake and Odeon Cinema Banbury have teamed up to offer you the chance to catch up on the latest action blockbusters, sci-fi epics and family favourites.

Yes, every week in the Banbury Cake we'll be offering free tickets to go and see some of the silver screen's must-see movies.

And this week, we're offering a pair of tickets to see Looper, or any other film, showing at the Odeon cinema in Horse Fair.

To stand a chance of winning, correctly answer the following question:

■ Looper is set in which North American state?

- a. Nebraska?
- b. Kansas?
- c. Colorado?

Rugby club earns a top award

BANBURY Rugby Club was presented with the Sports Club of the Year Award as the pride of the region's sports clubs paraded at the Spiceball Leisure Centre, Banbury, on Saturday for a glittering awards ceremony.

Besides the Sports Club of the Year award, the club's groundsman, Mark Woodward, was presented with the Unsung Hero award.

Youth section chairman Chris White accepted the award on behalf of the club.

He said: "The club award is recognition of the countless hours that officials, volunteers and coaches put into the smooth running of the club."

Juniors claim a double win

UNDER 16s: Banbury Rugby Club Under 16s played with flair and determination in a tough uncompromising encounter away at Lutterworth on Sunday, with the game finishing 33 - 24 in Banbury's favour.

With a strong wind behind them, Banbury scored 28 first-half points to Lutterworth's 12, with two tries from Sam Jackson and one apiece from Callum Horne and Rhys Andrews - all excellently converted by Sam Manning.

Lutterworth pulled the score back to just a four-point deficit, before Toby Chapman's try completed Banbury's scoring.

UNDER 15s: Banbury Under 15s travelled to Bromsgrove on Sunday and proved far too strong for their opponents.

Banbury led 26-0 at half-time and then swapped forwards with backs to liven things up.

Bromsgrove stuck to the task and were justly rewarded with a solitary try.

Unfortunately Banbury added a further 38 points to run out 64-5 winners.

Banbury's try scorers were: Jake Anderson (captain, three tries), George Barbeary (three), Lex Ramsay, Reece Lines, Jacob Turner and Charlie Mallock.

Jack Briggs converted 7 of Banbury's tries.

STARS with Claire Petulengro

Service provided by IMS Leeds LS1 8LB. Calls cost 60p per minute at all times

ARIES

Mar 21-Apr 19

At last your plans are starting to take shape but you may have some problems getting a loved one to fully understand the importance of your goals. Don't turn moody on them, but instead sit down and talk them through your plans. It doesn't suit you to play such an emotional role. Someone is placing unfair pressures on you. Call me now to gain the insight and strength to get your point across.

0906 585 4360

LIBRA

Sep 23-Oct 22

I know it seems as if you are not getting on with a close one as you'd hoped, but don't turn what is a misunderstanding into a full on war. If you involve others in your dispute then you could come out the loser. There is much more to be gained from your work this week than you think, especially if it involves a trip to a different town. Call me now for a new point of view on love and romance.

0906 585 4366

TAURUS

Apr 20-May 20

The stars line up to give you the gift of clear vision. Faces that you may have thought once had your best interests at heart will now have to show their true colours, which as you can imagine could lead to quite a few surprises for many of you bulls. True friends rally round this weekend and in some cases friends turn into lovers. Give me a ring for a twist in the tale of your future.

0906 585 4361

SCORPIO

Oct 23-Nov 21

Stop looking so deeply at your problems. If you can take a lighter view of what is occurring around you then you'll find the right solution. You're a sign that never does anything by halves so tip the scales and show us all what fun you can be. A certain person is getting bored with this quiet spell and wants the old you back. Call now to find out how to spice up your love life for the better.

0906 585 4367

GEMINI

May 21-Jun 20

You really do like to make situations more difficult for yourself than is necessary and some of you are going to find yourself having to choose between two lovers. Go for the one that you know is right for you long term and not just the choice that can show you a good time. You actually need a mental and a physical attraction together, don't you think? Give me a ring and I'll tell you a secret.

0906 585 4362

SAGITTARIUS

Nov 22-Dec 21

Many of you archers are going to be trying to reach a compromise with close ones over travel plans. Don't fight them. Lie back and let them do all the hard work and arranging for a change. Some sort of tension that has recently occurred in the home is making for a rather difficult air. Open up and tell them the real reason behind your reluctance. Call now for a compromise to suit all.

0906 585 4368

CANCER

Jun 21-Jul 22

There is a lot of work that you need to do in order to tie up this week as you had originally planned. You are spending more time thinking about what you have to do than actually getting on with it. A letter needs to be sent or even e-mailed to someone from far away who is beginning to think you no longer care. Are they right Cancer? Call now to hear how you can tap into your true feelings.

0906 585 4363

CAPRICORN

Dec 22-Jan 19

Try not to judge a friend for what you think they have done, or what is rumoured to have happened. For a sign who holds their own personal life so dear you're acting in a very contradictory manner. Give them the benefit of the doubt and you can find out all you need to know. Continue to accuse and believe in this manner and you are only going to find an enemy before you. Call for insight.

0906 585 4369

LEO

Jul 23-Aug 22

You have not been handling the departure of a certain person well. If you have something to say then I would suggest that you say it now, before you run out of chances completely. Don't let pride stop you from objecting to changes in the workplace. You may not be aware but the silent option you are taking is speaking volumes. Don't cut off your nose to spite your face. Call me for support.

0906 585 4364

AQUARIUS

Jan 20-Feb 18

Stress is evident. The younger generation is going to be of more importance than usual and you may find yourself having to bail them out from an elder that they have angered in some form or manner. You are only a child at heart yourself and you are also a very good soul. Do make some time though to indulge in your own pastimes. It's the recipe for a clear mind. Call now to reveal all.

0906 585 4370

VIRGO

Aug 23-Sep 22

You must try to look at your cash flow and assess how best to handle it. You don't even seem to have a firm idea of whether or not you are in or out of debt. You need to get some help with a work issue that's had you over a barrel. You are intelligent, fun and full of life, so stop moping. Get the help, advice and support you need to make your life the best it can be. Phone now for a starting point.

0906 585 4365

PISCES

Feb 19-Mar 20

Don't be afraid to get your hands dirty and to show those you work with that you can be a team player. There is a lot for you to tie up if you're to end this week with a peaceful mind. All the answers you need in love come later this week. A phone call gives you the chance to ask the questions which last week just seemed inappropriate to broach. Call now to right a wrong.

Classic rural retreat with space for all

By Gill Oliver

AN idyllic rural setting on the Oxfordshire boundary is being offered for those looking to get away from it all.

Fulford Farm, at Culworth, is a five-bedroom period farmhouse on the edge of the village.

It is approached via a tree-lined drive. Accommodation is set over three floors and includes three reception rooms, a large kitchen/breakfast room, featuring top-of-the-range Gaggenau appliances and a conservatory.

The master bedroom benefits from a generous en-suite bathroom as well as a dressing area, while the other four bedrooms are arranged over two floors.

Outside, a range of outbuildings offer a laundry room and additional storage rooms, while there is plenty of parking outside along with a double garage.

There are superb views over open countryside and the mature garden has maintenance included in the cost of the rent.

Fulford Farm is available to rent now for £3,500 a month.

● For details, contact agents Hamptons on 01295 277882 or see www.hamptons.co.uk

CLEANING BILLS LEAD TO LANDLORD AND TENANT DUST UPS

Maria Lucas, Qualified & Licensed Letting Expert, and Managing Director of Let Lucas Rental Specialists uses her experience to provide some useful tips for landlords:-

Landlords and renters argue more about the cost of cleaning a home when the tenant moves out than any other issue, according to the Association of Independent Inventory Clerks (AIIC).

The problem is growing as the number of renters in the market increases – although only 2% of tenancies end in a deposit dispute. Scruffy buy to let homes and who is responsible for clearing up the mess is the most common tenancy deposit dispute, adding up to around 52% of claims.

More than a quarter of landlords (29%) spent at least £1,000 bringing the property back up to the condition it was in at the start of the tenancy, while 10% had repair bills of £2,500 or more.

Maria Lucas, Managing Director of Let Lucas Rental Specialists said: "Whilst accidents do happen during a tenancy, tenants need to realise that they must take financial responsibility for things that are beyond normal wear and tear.

"Recently a tenant was baffled when told the oven, which was listed as in clean condition at time of check in, was now very dirty and needed a deep professional clean. The tenant commented that surely this is normal wear and tear? I had to cook food in it during the tenancy".

Letting is a complex, specialist field incorporating more than 50 Acts of Parliament and 70 sets of regulations which landlords should be aware of, Contact Maria Lucas, Managing Director of Let Lucas Rental Specialists for a consultation on 01295 234717.

Jetta well suited to booted return

By David Duffy

EVERY now and again a car comes along that fits you like a glove.

Spacious, sensible, economical and thoroughly understated, the badge on the boot is almost irrelevant. But when the badge on the bonnet says VW, you know you can relax.

Even when the car is built thousands of miles away in Mexico, there is a reassuring Germanic solidity about the Jetta that is reinforced every time a door clunks shut.

The location of the production line in Mexico's biggest car factory is no coincidence, as the Jetta continues to be Volkswagen's best-selling car in the United States, where drivers rate booted models higher in the prestige rankings than European motorists, who value the versatility of hatchbacks.

Relaunched last year as a completely new model, the boot presents surprisingly few problems, for as well as being hugely capacious, it has folding rear seats and a handy 'ski' flap that allows long items to be carried with ease.

Quiet, refined and supremely comfortable, the medium-sized saloon wears the same family 'face' used in the new Polo, Passat and Sharan.

Compared to the car it replaced, the new Jetta is longer, giving a tangible boost to rear legroom.

The Jetta name was first used in Germany in 1979 for a medium-sized saloon and has continued without interruption in the United States.

Outside the States, the Jetta name was replaced by Vento between 1991 and 1998, and then Bora between 1998 and 2005. Since then, Jetta has been the universal name.

While the badge is the same on US and European models, under the skin they differ considerably, with the European version having multi-link rear suspension, electro-mechanical steering, a more advanced engine line-up, an upgraded interior and subtle exterior styling changes.

Standard safety features include anti-lock braking, electronic stability program and six airbags.

The test car was powered by a

SALES SUCCESS: The Mexican-built Jetta continues to be the best selling VW in the US gem of an engine, which starts the diesel range. The 1.6-litre TDI engine, developing 105 horsepower, is equipped with BlueMotion Technology features including Stop/Start and battery regeneration as standard.

Wheels are fitted with low-rolling resistance tyres to enhance economy, and on the SE test model a multi-function computer displays a visual gear change recommendation for optimum fuel consumption.

In the real world, all that adds up to excellent long-range cruising ability and day-to-day consumption of more than 60mpg.

Made in Britain still matters to motorists

CAR buyers are hailing the work of UK car manufacturers after a poll showed that 62% of customers are more likely to buy a vehicle if it is 'made in Britain'. As a result, Motorpoint, which polled almost 3,000 customers on its website, predicts that UK roads will be occupied by more British-built cars.

David Shelton, Motorpoint's managing director, says: "Our poll shows that UK motorists have trust in, and want to support British car production, so it's increasingly important to offer cars manufactured in the UK."

Meanwhile, Toyota is giving the new Derbyshire-built Auris its first public appearance at the Paris Motor Show.

The most obvious change is the updated styling, including Toyota's new 'face' and more angular rear lights, which look very much like the units on the Hyundai i30.

The Auris has come in for criticism over its life, but the new model aims to change that with a much-improved interior, sharper styling and a more cleverly packaged interior.

A Toyota insider was quoted as saying the new model's interior look, feel and outright quality is a "quantum leap" ahead of the outgoing one.

To make the new cabin feel much more upmarket than before, Toyota has paid special attention to the 'sensory quality' of the cabin and has worked in tiny detail to achieve a sense of visual unity by using consistent lighting, colours and finishes.

Full hybrid, diesel and petrol versions of the car will be produced, with the spread of the range expected to be broadly similar to the current line-up. Expect a choice including a 1.4-litre diesel, a 1.33-litre petrol and a 1.6-litre petrol.

And Toyota has also released two new special edition Yaris models. The Yaris Edition, based on T2 spec, adds to the base car's equipment list and a little more outlay buys the Yaris Trend, which is based on the sporty and better-equipped SR specification.

■ JAGUAR has raced to the top of a car dealership customer satisfaction table. The luxury car company's dealer network scored a satisfaction figure of 86.1% in a survey by American company JD Power, which was published by What Car? Second in the 27-company table was Lexus (83.6%), with Toyota (82.4%) third and Mercedes-Benz (82.3%) fourth. What Car? editor-in-chief Chas Hallett said: "The survey clearly shows that Jaguar dealers have the most friendly, helpful staff, and the best facilities and workmanship."

■ BMW's X3 medium-sized SUV is now available in rear-wheel-drive 'sDrive18d' guise, with a lower price of £28,580, a lower CO2 output and higher fuel economy than ever before. Until now, the X3 had been available only in 'xDrive' four-wheel-drive form, but the new arrival gives buyers a more frugal and more accessible option if the benefits of four driven wheels don't apply to them.
